

The conflicts and chaos we see in global, national, communal, and familial politics today are projections of our fragmented, deluded minds, which, in turn, are the products of some fourteen billion years of evolution since the most recent big bang. If these aeons of development had not taken place in the way that they have, we humans would not be where we are today.

We can collectively extricate ourselves out of the mess that humanity currently finds itself in by viewing the whole of evolution as a dynamical system, modelled by nonlinear mathematics. The infinite series of bifurcations in dynamical systems correspond to major turning points in evolutionary history, which terminate in an accumulation point, when chaos breaks out, just as we see in the world today.

So when is evolution's Accumulation Point due to take place? Well, as this book explains, four different ways of modelling exponential growth processes indicate that the most momentous turning point in evolutionary history is taking place between 2000 and 2030, as outside bounds. So how our children and grandchildren will adapt to this unprecedented rate of change during the rest of this century is very much dependent on to what extent evolution could become fully conscious of itself within our psyches.

If we continue to blindly follow evolution's divergent trends, the mathematics indicates that more and more chaos will arise, with a few oases of self-similar order buried deep in the turbulence. On the other hand, if we could see that evolution has led us into the confusion and turmoil we are in today, we could start afresh at the very beginning, collectively harmonizing evolutionary convergence. By egolessly awakening to Total Freedom, free of the past and future, we would reveal that our Divine Essence is Love, bringing Peace to our troubled species, living blissfully in the Eternal Now at the end of time.

As this diagram indicates, the only viable way forward for humanity is to turn the horizontal dimension of time into the vertical, where we are carried to evolution's Glorious Culmination in Wholeness, the union of the Alpha and Omega Points. This is a timeless vision that the mystic Eckhart Tolle has presented in his best-selling books The Power of Now and A New Earth, expressed in mathematical terms in this book.

Actually, Through Evolution's Accumulation Point is complementary to The Four Spheres: Healing the Split between Mysticism and Science, which describes the same holistic evolutionary model in a language that has evolved from the abstract semantic modelling methods that information systems architects use to build the Internet. These books, which summarize a trilogy on Wholeness, could be read in either order, for they have grown iteratively, rather like the iterations that produce beautiful fractals, such as that of the Mandelbrot set on the front cover.

However, we cannot bring about much needed change to the world just by reading and writing books or by attending conferences exploring the critical transition times we live in today. With the education and economic systems being major constraints on our healing, liberating, and awakening processes, we also need quite new institutions that could help carry humanity into the much longed-for Age of Light. That is the principal purpose of the Alliance for Mystical Pragmatics, unifying and integrating the four great global movements of Spiritual Renaissance, Scientific Revolution, Sharing Economy, and World Peace into a coherent whole.